

Washington (AP)—The Senate shouted approval of a new economic controls bill last night, permitting some price rollbacks but assuring retailers and wholesalers of their "customary percentage margins over costs."

The voice vote stamped approval on the work of a Senate-House conference committee which has been laboring since Wednesday to adjust Senate and House bills. The House probably will act Monday, since the present controls law expires Tuesday at midnight.

The compromise would extend controls, although sometimes in limited form, over wages, prices, credit, rent and materials. It would run through next June, as compared with the two years President Truman asked.

Consumers would find it a little easier to buy automobiles and household appliances under the compromise. The conferees agreed to allow 18 months, instead of the present 15, to pay off balances on the purchases of new and used cars. Purchasers still will have to put one-third down. Household appliances could be bought with 15 per cent down and 18 months to pay; they now require 25 per cent down and the balance in 15 months.

Most important of yesterday's decisions by the conferees was agreement on a plan to permit rollbacks on non-farm commodities to pre-Korea levels—provided increased costs since then are taken into account in setting price ceilings.

Some price "roll forwards" would also be permitted under the requirement that new costs be considered. One Office of Price Stabilization observer predicted informally it could mean a boost of 10 per cent in the price of automobiles.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he thought President Truman would sign the compromise even though it falls far short of what he said he needed to combat inflation.

The bill would continue the President's general stabilization and mobilization powers, including priority and allocation controls over scarce materials, although denying him many of the new powers he asked.

While the administration had sought a free hand on rollbacks, and had opposed the plan of assuring the customary retail and wholesale markups, there was no immediate comment from stabilization officials on the conference agreement.

Price Administrator Michael V. DiSalle was on the same floor of the capitol as the conferees, but did not venture down the hall to the conference room, and had nothing to say to reporters.

One of the last big questions for the conferees was the question of meat slaughter quotas, on which the administration took another liking.

They refused to write into the compromise bill any provisions for the use of slaughtering quotas. Both Senate and House had taken the same stand, over objections from stabilization officials.

Senator Maybank (D-SC) said he planned to introduce separate legislation later to cover the slaughter quota question.

The rollback plan approved would permit the government to order price ceilings on non-farm commodities to the levels that prevailed just before Korea—provided cost increases are taken into account.

House Votes End To German War

Washington (AP)—The House yesterday voted 376 to 0 to end the formal state of war with Germany more than six years after the shooting stopped in May, 1945. The war began Dec. 11, 1941.

The resolution, requested by President Truman, now goes to the Senate.

Social Conduct Experiment All Wet, But Wil Try Again

Moundsville, W. Va., (AP)—Four young experimenters in social conduct fished their belongings from the Ohio river yesterday, still bent on floating down to New Orleans.

They want to learn what happens to mind and manners when two bachelors and two women have to share a 12-by-20-foot raft for several weeks.

"It was sad when the great ship went down," they sang, from a ballad about the sinking of the "Titanic."

Their great ship, called "Lethargia," was upside down near the West Virginia shore at Round Bottom, just downstream from Moundsville.

"Lethargia" capsized Thursday after hitching a tow with a big river tug. The tug was too fast. It swamped the raft, built on oil drums with a canvas covered cabin about eight feet square.

Newspaper Links Merl Young To List Of Figures Exerting Influence To Obtain RFC Loan

St. Louis (AP)—The name of E. Merl Young was added yesterday by the Post-Dispatch to the list of figures which it says exerted influence in obtaining a $565,000 RFC loan for a St. Louis printing firm.

Young is a former Washington examiner for the RFC. He was identified by the Fulbright Senate subcommittee on banking as a key figure in RFC lending decisions before the agency's recent shakeup.

Young was not reachable in Washington for comment. Both telephones listed for him have been disconnected. It was the $8,500 mink coat of his wife, a White House stenographer, which stirred the country several months ago.

The Post-Dispatch reported earlier this week that William M. Boyle Jr., Democratic national chairman, and James P. Finnegan, former internal revenue collector here, helped promote the loan to the American Lithofold Corp.

Voice Of America Challenges Czechs To Let Oatis Broadcast

Washington (AP)—The State department's "Voice of America" yesterday challenged Communist Czechoslovakia "in the name of decency" to let Associated Press Correspondent William Oatis broadcast daily to show he is still alive.

Oatis is now in a Czech prison, serving a five to 10-year sentence for alleged espionage. The State department has denounced his trial as a farce and a fraud.

In a dramatic new move, the "Voice" broadcast its challenge directly to Czech President Clement Gottwald:

"Bring William Oatis to the Prague radio every night. Bring him drugged, if you must. But bring him."

"We do not want to hear one of these days that William Oatis is ill, and that despite everything the six doctors you have sent to attend him (could do), he has passed away quietly in the night."

"Nor do we want to hear that somehow, by some strange writ of Communist law, William Oatis is no longer held in a Prague jail but has been moved to more distant places. It has happened too often in the past history of Stalinist jails."

The broadcast said the request for daily reassurances as to Oatis' health would not have been necessary if the American ambassador, Ellis Briggs, had been permitted to see Oatis.

Postal-Treasury Funds Approved

Washington (AP)—The Senate late yesterday voted to increase annual leave for 475,000 Postoffice and Treasury department workers from 15 to 20 days, at an estimated cost of $30,000,000 to $35,000,000.

Then senators passed by voice a bill providing nearly $3,000,000,000 in operating funds for the Postoffice and Treasury departments for the current fiscal year, which began July 1.

The big money bill now goes back to the House for consideration of numerous Senate amendments.

In another action, the Senate voted to chop $16,000,000 off of funds carrying the mails.

Sadist Theory Discounted In Burning Of Boy

Mount Vernon, O. (AP)—A small boy climbed a roadside tree near his farm home here yesterday and touched an electric power line.

He wound up hanging by one foot from a crotch in the tree and touched off a first-class mystery for the few hours he was unconscious.

The victim, John Popham, 9, suffered a number of burns, but he was expected to recover.

An attending physician, noting the burns when the boy's clothing was peeled off at a hospital, said the burns might have been by a cigarette lighter.

Knox county authorities, coupling that possible theory with the fact a strange car drove near the tree during the 10 to 15 minutes John probably was dangling there, started a search for a sadist.

Marshall's Statement Confusing

Washington (AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall threw top Pentagon officials into considerable confusion last night with his testimony on Capitol Hill that the U.S. plans to have 400,000 American troops in Europe in 1952.

The figure given by Marshall was nearly twice as great as previous official estimates.

Highest defense authorities at the Pentagon told newsmen after hours of frantic checking and double-checking that they were unable to explain or clarify the basis for Marshall's statement.

Marshall himself could not be reached. Aides said he left immediately after attending the funeral of Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, who died of a heart seizure in Italy last weekend.

There was some belief that Marshall may have made a slip of the tongue. Top aides said as far as they knew there was no change in present plans to limit the size of U.S. forces in Europe to six combat divisions totaling approximately 200,000 troops.

Officials admitted frankly that they were confused by Marshall's testimony and could not tell whether he was disclosing a new development or had simply erred in his figures.

Marshall also disclosed that U.S. Allies in Europe have promised they will have 2,500,000 men under arms next year and will be able to throw 5,000,000 men into the field within 90 days after the outbreak of any new war.

Marshall's revised figures came as a surprise to lawmakers who recalled his testimony on the controversial troops-to-Europe issue last February 15.

At that time, testifying before a joint session of the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committee, Marshall said there were no plans to send more than 100,000 additional ground troops to Europe to bolster the two American divisions already there.

He said the new contingents would include 72,000 men in four combat divisions—plus some 25,000 supporting units—and would raise U.S. ground forces in Europe to about 197,000.

Yesterday, Marshall raised the count to 340,000 ground troops and 60,000 Air Force troops.

He also commented that the total of ground force troops would still only cover the six divisions previously announced for the European buildup.

Normally, a U.S. division numbers about 18,000 combat troops, supported by back-of-the-line supply, maintenance and headquarters troops which also run high in the thousands.

Marshall made the disclosure in voicing a plea against any let down in American defensive spirit resulting from the Korean armistice talks and against any congressional cuts in U.S. military aid to western Europe.

Cease-Fire Buffer Zone Discussed By Conferees

U.N. Advance Headquarters, Korea, Saturday (AP)—Allied and Communist negotiators resumed talks today on the touchy problem of a cease-fire buffer zone in Korea—with the Reds probably arguing for a line centered on Parallel 38.

Nationalists Seize Strip In Red China

Rangoon Burma, (AP)—A Chinese Nationalist Army force has struck 65 miles into Red China from its refugee base in Burma and seized a 100-mile-long frontier strip in Yunnan province.

The Nationalists have captured one airfield and are reported trying to build another.

Communists troops in larger force are counter-attacking from headquarters bases at Paoshan on the Burma-China Stillwell road of the Second World War.

The fighting is about 200 miles west and slightly south of Kuming, the Red-held Yunnan capital.

Although the Nationalist penetration is relatively small-scale, it is regarded as the most effective action on the mainland this year by forces linked with President Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa island regime.

The Nationalist force was authoritatively said to number about 15,000 regular troops in three columns. They are commanded by Li Mi, displaced Nationalist governor of Yunnan and one of western China's best known generals.

Harriman Flies To Great Britain

Tehran, Iran, (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, U.S. roving ambassador left by plane last night for London to urge Britain to speed her reply to the Iranian proposal for renewed oil talks. He was accompanied by Sir Francis Shepherd, Britain's ambassador to Tehran.

Harriman expressed confidence his London visit would clear up many points and that the British and Iranians soon would start conferring. Before leaving he had dinner with the Iranian Cabinet.

Deliverymen Beat Unwelcome Path To Couple's Door

Allentown, (AP)—Deliverymen have been drumming on the door of the Alfred Jaundl home for two days.

Among the things they brought—and took back—were: one dozen roses; seven quarts of milk; a pound of butter. A plumber came to repair the water heater. An undertaker came and said he had been summoned.

Yesterday police said they had picked up four boys, ages 11 to 16, who admitted to telephoning the various requests. The boys, before they were turned over to their parents, said they had thought the prank was funny when they picked Jaundl's name from the telephone book.

They admitted also having ordered: three cases of beer; a quantity of hot dogs, hamburgers and steaks; a wedding cake; two big pieces of plywood.

Wearily, Jaundl went home to turn back the expected deliverymen.

Denies Officer Expressed U. S. Policy

Washington (AP)—The high command of U.S. armed forces publicly washed its hands last night of a Pentagon officer's statement that while U.N. forces have halted their offensive in Korea the Communists have taken advantage of the cease-fire talks to make a "tremendous buildup" of their strength.

Clayton Fritchey, information director for the Defense department, told reporters that the statement given out earlier by a briefing officer does not reflect official policy or views.

The whole affair assumed the proportions of a snafu of large-scale proportions.

Up to last night the earlier statement had been regarded as an official one inasmuch as the briefing officer, departing from custom, had told newsmen they were at liberty to quote his remarks directly.

The timing of his statement was surprising. It came shortly before U. N. and Communist negotiators at Kaesong resumed talks on the touchy question of setting up a buffer zone between the opposing forces in Korea.

The briefing officer pointed to what he termed the "tremendous buildup" of Communist strength since preliminary truce talks started, and expressed hope this was no evidence of "bad faith."

Proof of the "good faith" of the U. S. and its United Nations partners, he said, was presented when they let the truce talks halt their advance at a time when the Reds were "hanging on the ropes."

The officer drew a sharp contrast between the increase of Communist troops; weapons and supplies and the U. N. reaction to the truce talks. He let it be known that the U. N. command, instead of building up, has pulled one sizeable unit out of the battle line since the talks started and has sent it to Japan.

This was the first indication that any U. N. forces had been withdrawn. Up to now high officers had been giving the impression that everything was being kept ready for a hard-hitting campaign if the peace talks should collapse.

Predictions were heard that yesterday's developments here would lead to reverberations in Congress. Apparently with this in mind, among other things, Fritchey declared that the unusual on-the-record statement "should not be construed as a defense policy or a change of policy, or a policy by the Army chief of staff" (Gen. J. Lawton Collins).

The briefing officer could not be reached last night for comment on Fritchey's statement.

In talking about the situation in Korea, he said:

"In brief, the enemy has utilized the time since the Malik proposal to build troop strength and to move supplies and weapons south. It is to be hoped that these acts are not an indication of bad faith in view of the Malik proposal."

"The picture has been one of constant and continuous buildup behind their screening forces," the spokesman said. "Fresh Chinese Communist units and thousands of individual replacements have moved in."

Korean Officials Consider Buying Back $100,000 Rug

Pueblo, Colo., (AP)—Hold up your bids on that luxurious $100,000 leopard skin rug.

The Korean government is considering buying back the souvenir which Sgt. Elvire H. Giltner sent home from Korea. There's a chance that it's a "priceless national treasure."

Sergeant Giltner mailed it to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh V. Giltner last month. It's made of 48 matched leopard skins and is 18½ by eight feet.

One look convinced the Giltners it was "beautiful, but too big for our house." They offered it to the highest bidders, passing along their son's $25,000 estimate of its value, and put it in storage.

The Korean consul general in New York, David Nankong, saw a newspaper photograph of it, and thought it looked like one which once adorned the palace of the late Queen Min. He appraised it at $100,000.

The Korean embassy in Washington cabled a description to Pusan yesterday for a check of its authenticity.

"If it appears genuine we shall try to get it back, of course reimbursing the sergeant for any expense he went to in getting the rug and sending it to his home," the spokesman said.

Giltner didn't write his parents what he paid for it. He said he bought it form a "Gook" and that it came from the Chang Duk palace.

Rev. Johnston To Preach On 'The Bill Of Rights'

Congregation To Mark Anniversary

Newfoundland — The 44th anniversary of the founding of the German Valley Moravian church will be celebrated tomorrow with morning and evening services.

Rev. Frederick Fulmer, pastor, has announced that Rev. Franklin Artley, pastor of the Elmora, N. J. Presbyterian church, will be the speaker at service at 8 p. m. This will be followed by the traditional Moravian love feast.

The Methodist church will join with the Presbyterian, Reformed and Lutheran churches of Stroudsburg in the final Community evening service at LaBar's Rhododendron nursery Sunday at 7 p. m. Rev. Frank H. Blatt will be in charge of the service.

Rev. Walter S. Johnston, minister of the Stroudsburg Methodist church, will preach a timely sermon on the theme "The Bill of Rights", Sunday at 11 a. m. It will be a message that will be liked by some and disliked by others but one the truth of which no one will be able to deny.

Leonard Kranendonk, baritone soloist in the Fred Waring Glee club, and guest soloist for the summer, will sing "How Long Wilt Thou Forget Me" by Mielzke. The Senior choir under the leadership of Albert J. Fregans will sing Spiker's famous "Fear not, O Israel."

Girl Counselor Dies In Water At Area Camp

Believed to have suffered an epileptic attack, Elaine Imbrey, 18, of 3942 South West Fifth St., Miami, Fla., a counselor in the girls' section of Blue Mountain camp, was pulled from the water of the camp lake at about 1:30 p. m. yesterday.

An investigation conducted by State police of the Stroudsburg sub-station indicated that the young woman had a spell of illness shortly after midnight yesterday, described as an epileptic fit, and was advised by resident physicians at the camp to avoid exertion.

Pfc. Donald Henzey, investigating officer, said the young woman apparently went to the lake and participated in a ten-minute swim session set aside for counselors and other supervisory officials of the camp from noon until 12:10 p. m.

It was apparently while so engaged that Miss Imbrey was stricken ill and died. She was not missed until around 1 p. m.

Lily Meyers, director of swimming for the girls' section, Louis Kleinman and Fatsy Keebler began a search for Miss Imbrey in the swimming region of the lake after she could not be found elsewhere.

Miss Keebler found the young woman's body in the water. Dr. Louis Seligman, chief camp physician and his assistant immediately sought to revive the young woman. All methods of resuscitation were utilized pending arrival of an ambulance to remove Miss Imbrey to the hospital, where she was pronounced dead.

Miss Imbrey, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Imbrey, Miami, had been coming to the camp as a camper for a number of years. She ultimately became a counselor. She was enrolled as a freshman at University of Alabama.

Justice of the Peace William N. Walton, Stroudsburg, acting coroner, also conducted an investigation. The body was released to Lanterman funeral home. Services will be held Monday with interment in Gracefield cemetery.

Police To File Charges In Hit-Run Crash

Brodheads—State police at the local sub-station said last night that a hit-and-run charge will be lodged against Allen J. Green, Kunkletown RD 1, before Justice of the Peace Luther Dorshimer as the result of an accident here yesterday morning.

Police said Green's sedan struck a parked station wagon owned and operated by Hugh Altemose, 1216 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, a star route mail carrier.

Altemose's vehicle was parked near a mail box and unoccupied when the sedan operated by Green struck it and continued along Route 209, police said. Altemose caught the license number and reported it to State police.

There were no personal injuries. Authorities said Green had about $50 damages to his sedan. The station wagon damages were estimated at about $15.

Democrat—Nellie Burd, 61, and Esther Hammerman, 47.

Collision Causes Slight Damages

Minor damages resulted to an automobile and bus at 8:25 p. m. yesterday as the result of a collision on Route 611 between Stroudsburg and Bartonville.

Investigating officers of State police here said a car traveling south was overtaking a truck, when the driver, Warren Godshall, 13 Bryant St., Stroudsburg, claimed he was forced over.

His car collided with a Rapid Transfer bus from Carbondale operated by William P. Doyle, River St., that city. Damages to the bus were estimated at $25. Godshall's car had damages estimated at $50.

Salary Increases In Store For Some County Officials Under Bill In State Senate

County office holders to be elected in Monroe county at next November's general election would receive substantial salary boosts under a bill pending in the State Senate.

At least one county officer, the district attorney, is apparently due for an increase on the basis of Monroe county's increase in population, regardless of the proposed law.

Present salary of the district attorney is based on a population of slightly more than 29,000 persons, or under the 30,000 population mark which is the point of increase.

While the 1950 census showed the county had better than 33,000 persons, the increase under the law could not be given the incumbent in office, District Attorney Detleff A. Hansen.

However, the district attorney elected next November will be eligible for the increase.

Under the same law the salary increases proposed in the bill now in the State Senate can not be made applicable to incumbents. But those elected in November will be eligible, if the measure is adopted.

Bills cover all classifications of counties from first to eighth, inclusive.

The measure applicable to seventh class counties — Monroe's classification—would raise the salaries of the county commissioners and the sheriff.

Pay of the commissioners would be hiked from $1,100 to $2,200 a year and that of sheriffs from $3,300 to $4,000 a year. Commissioners are also compensated for serving as directors of the institution district.

In eighth class counties, which includes Pike county, pay of county commissioners would be increased from $1,100 to $2,200, district attorney from $825 to $1,000 or $1,500, depending on population, and that of sheriffs from $1,760 to $2,500 or $3,000, also depending on population.

Board Begins Official Vote Count Here

Mindful although not hampered by yesterday afternoon's stifling heat, Monroe county's Computing and Canvassing board went about the task of compiling the official count of votes cast in Tuesday's primary election.

The vote canvass started at noon in the main court room of the court house under the direction of President Judge Fred W. Davis and Associate Judges Theodore S. Metzgar and Homer A. Shupp.

Serving as tellers were members of the Monroe County Bar: George T. Robinson, Charles R. Bensinger, Kennard Lewis and Edward L. Williams.

In order to speed the work, the board was in session again last night after taking a brief recess for supper.

The three county commissioners ordinarily comprise the County Election board to check the ballots and the sealed returns from the county's 34 voting districts. All of the commissioners, however, were candidates for denomination at the recent election and thus were ineligible to serve on the canvassing board.

Ray Price Jr. Heads Young Republicans

The Young Republicans of Monroe county held their regular meeting at the Indian Queen hotel Thursday when an election of officers was held due to the resignation of Dr. Carolyn Toewe, county chairman. Dr. Toewe resigned when she was commissioned in the Army Air Corps.

Ray Price Jr., was elected county chairman, Miss Marie A. Cody, county vice-chairman, Mrs. John Mullins, recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Singer, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Elizabeth Gaunt, treasurer.

After the constitution and by-laws were approved by the general membership, the principal speaker, Stephen Teller, Wilkes-Barre attorney, was introduced by Acting Chairman John Kistler.

The speaker was brought to the meeting through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brodhead.

Mr. Teller outlined the historical background of the Republican party. He related that "the Republican party was responsible for our country becoming a world power."

He further stated that in the last 20 years the Republicans have been out of control because they have not kept up with the world changes. He said, "The Democrats are always coming out with new proposals that meet the needs of the American people, the Republicans instead of criticizing the Democrats should start concentrating on making proposals that will also meet the needs of America today."

In eighth class counties, which includes Pike county, pay of county commissioners would be increased from $1,100 to $2,200, district attorney from $825 to $1,000 or $1,500, depending on population, and that of sheriffs from $1,760 to $2,500 or $3,000, also depending on population.

Railroad Passes

A hullabaloo has been raised in New Jersey because the Pennsylvania and other railroads have issued 2700 passes for free travel to legislators, state employees, and a few others in the present calendar year.

Such passes are required by state law. The number has increased several fold in recent years.

Pennsylvania long ago realized the inherent evils in this system. The Legislators banned the passes—which had been issued to state employees, legislators, newspapermen, and a lot of others—more than four decades ago. Now virtually the only persons getting passes are railroad workers. That is as it should be.

Legislators and other beneficiaries of the free pass system are always under suspicion that their official and other duties have been influenced in favor of those who bear gifts. New Jersey will do well to follow the Pennsylvania example.

Safety Recognized

Recognition of Pennsylvania efforts in promotion of highway safety have been coming with pleasing frequency recently.

The newest has been an award of top honors by the National Safety Council to the Department of Public Instruction for its school traffic safety program. Dr. Francis B. Haas, department superintendent, said the citation came for outstanding work of school safety patrols and the high plane of driver education programs in 285 high schools in the state. These accomplishments enabled Pennsylvania to tie New York for first place.

Safety education in schools should bear rich fruit. The earlier young Pennsylvania learns the basic principles on highways as elsewhere, the lower will be accident and death tolls. There will always be vehicular accidents, too many of them, but pupil education will minimize them.

Pennsylvania seems definitely to be making marked progress in its battle for increased sanity on the roads. The schools have been cited. Just a few days ago the American Automobile Association made an award to T. Elmer Transeau, director of the Bureau of Highway Safety in the Department of Revenue, for leadership in highway protection. And only a few months ago the entire state traffic safety program gained top recognition from national organizations. So the Pennsylvania motorist well may feel that he is relatively safer on highways of his own state than in most others.

Senatorial Cool-Off

Pennsylvania senators seem none too hopeful of reaching a prompt solution of the baffling revenue question and a host of other knotty problems.

In any event, they believe they are entitled to a maximum of comfort on these hot and humid days while attempting to arrive at proper solutions to the state's problems. Last week they ordered 22 air conditioning units at a total cost of $8470. Delivery came with unusual promptness—on the very next day—and installation began Monday in the Senate Caucus Room and the Senate Library. The Senate Chamber itself is air conditioned.

The House of Representatives, which will have to stay in Harrisburg just as long as the 50 members of the upper house, may be expected to have a like viewpoint concerning its comfort and atmosphere conducive to the most satisfactory deliberations.

The expenditures will be well justified if they help reduce the anticipated haste of legislators to get out of Harrisburg when tax and appropriation issues are settled. There may be fewer cases of inadequately considered and ignored legislation.

Try And Stop Me
By Bennett Cerf
A young teacher took her fifth grade class to the Bronx Park Zoo. Pointing to a deer, she asked little Archibald what animal it was. Archibald looked blank. "Come now," coaxed the teacher. "What does your mother often call your daddy?" "O-ho!" exclaimed Archibald, his eyes bulging. "So that's what a louse looks like!"

The novelist Balzac had a mean old uncle whom he roundly detested. But the old man couldn't take it with him, and when he died without leaving a will, Balzac inherited his entire fortune because he was the nearest of kin. It was a timely break for the novelist, who happened to be low in funds at the moment. He noted in his diary, "Last Tuesday, at five in the morning, my uncle and I passed on to a richer and better life."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Walt Disney's "Alice in Wonderland" is a supercharged fantasy from his magic inkwells. Adapted from both "Alice" and its companion classic, "Through the Looking Glass," the all-cartoon feature imaginatively takes the little English girl through her best-remembered adventures.

There's the mad tea party, where steaming pots play a calypso chorus. Ed Wynne supplies the voice of the Hatter and Jerry Colonna that of the March Hare. A wonderfully haughty caterpillar blows smoke letters of the alphabet as he talks. Sterling Holloway vocalizes for the striped Cheshire Cat, who can disappear and leave only his enormous grin behind.

The Walrus and Tweedledum, the White Rabbit, the Queen of Hearts with a precise army of playing cards—all cavort in this colorful pictorialization of the 85-year-old tales of Lewis Carroll. One of the most charming scenes is a forest chorus of wildflowers come to life; a chrysanthemum is a shaggy poodle furiously barking at Alice. Shovel birds, spectacle birds, umbrella and pencil birds inhabit the trees, and a dog sweeps a magic walkway into oblivion with his whiskerous nose.

To this confirmed Disney fan, however, "Alice" didn't seem quite up to par on the whole. The determined madness of her dream world seems hyped and exaggerated almost beyond endurance at times. Some of the frantic dialogue can't be understood. There are no characters as captivating as, say, the malicious cat and Gus-Gus the mouse in "Cinderella."

Still, the film, in the works several years, shows great imaginative effort in more than half a million drawings. Alice's voice is supplied by Kathryn Beaumont, a 12-year-old English actress.

Taut direction and interesting camera work make "Iron Man" a better movie than the routine story it tells. Husky Jeff Chandler just wants to go on digging coal in the Pennsylvania pits until he can save enough to buy a radio store.

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

The Tideland Case

I became interested in the Tideland cases for two reasons, perhaps somewhat different from those which immediately trouble the people of the States of California, Texas and Louisiana.

The first reason is the constant encroachment of the Federal Government on the revenues of State governments. In some states, in which the federal government has established vast national parks and reservations, state revenues are in such a dismal condition that the states turn to Washington for a hand-out. This is bad practice. It was part of the theory of the New Dealers that states should be abolished and that the United States should be divided into administrative provinces—nine.

Such a procedure would have destroyed the sovereignty of the states and would have established an administrative system that could have been a basis for a totalitarian government. The scheme failed and has been forgotten, but federal encroachment on the rights of the states and of the people thereof has continued.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture — Genesis 27:6-29; Matthew 19:3-9; Luke 10:38-42; I Corinthians 13:4-7.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Juvenile delinquency is increasing in our land, law authorities say, and indeed, we are led to think so when we read the daily newspapers. These same authorities tell us that one of the greatest causes of juvenile crime is broken homes. Divorces are increasing with the growth of child delinquency.

When we sing the old song, "There's no place like home," most of us think of our own homes where love reigned; where differences between parents or among children were settled with renewed love and understanding—homes that we leave if we marry or business calls us to far places, with nostalgia and dream of with longing.

How many thousands of young people have no such beautiful recollections of their homes. Quarrels, misunderstandings, accusations, venal feelings spitefully expressed are the things they remember and, finally, maybe a mother or a father going to live elsewhere and only the one parent to take the place of the two who brought them into the world.

Children do so need both parents to help them get a right start in life. School teachers do their best; Sunday school teachers try to guide young people in the paths of righteousness—but a happy home means more than anything else in the world. It gives a feeling of security. It's a place where the youngsters bring their joys and their griefs, and mother and father help them to understand life and teach them how to make it beautiful.

Today's lesson gives us a glimpse into a home of olden time, which once was a happy one, but deceit, lying and underhand dealing destroyed its harmony.

Isaac and Rebekah were a happy couple, but they grieved because they had no children. Then God gave them twin sons, Esau and Jacob. Esau came into the world first, so was heir to his father's blessing. Jacob came after and, unfortunately, Isaac loved Esau best and Rebekah favored Jacob—instead of both parents loving both sons equally.

Isaac grew old; his sight failed, and he was sure that death was near. He called Esau to him, told him to take his bow and quiver and shoot some venison, for he loved savory meat. After that Isaac would give this son his blessing.

Rebekah heard what her husband said to Esau, so she told her favorite, Jacob, to quickly kill a kid from the flock of goats and bring it to her and she would cook it, and he could take it to his father and get the blessing. Jacob said his father would know he was not Esau, although he could not see him, because Esau's arms were hairy and his were smooth. So the mother had Jacob put on Esau's clothes, and she covered his arms with the skin of the goats, and gave him the meat to take to his father.

Blind though he was Isaac knew Jacob's voice, and also asked how he had been able to bring the meat so quickly. Then Jacob told the worst lie of all; he said God had been with him to help him.

Isaac felt of Jacob's arms, and thought it was Esau—because they were hairy, so he gave the younger son his blessing. You can imagine how Esau felt when he knew what his mother and Jacob had done.

How could that home ever be a place of happiness after that—ued, often in such small respects that it amounts to a whittling process that can, in time, completely alter our form of government.

A fight with a bully (Jim Arness, who played "The Thing" in that movie) shows Jeff is a natural-born killer-boxer.

The second reason for my interest in the Tideland question is that in the case of the United States vs. Texas, the Supreme Court deciding against the State 4 to 3, Mr. Justice Hugo Black and Mr. Justice William O. Douglas employed startling language, as in the California case, which ought not to be permitted to stand as precedents in American law.

The theory that what, at a particular moment, an administration of government believes to be necessary is ipso facto right is not American but Nazi law. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, throughout his long career as an Hegelian philosopher, essayist and jurist, did believe that law as a function of the power of the state involved no moral criteria, but both the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States conceived of law in this country as a limited procedure which, in the case of the individual, must not breach his inalienable rights and, in the case of states, must not invade their jurisdiction beyond the specific provisions of the Constitution.

Whereas the Democratic Party offered by the University of Maryland, in the European theater, the University of California, in the Far East, and Louisiana State in Panama. All three of these educational institutions have opened up branches overseas. And a soldier who completes any course they offer can receive credit towards a degree.

Looking ahead—Richards, and other Army officials, believe information and education programs will be more important than ever when UMT is a working program. In many areas of the country, a soldier in training is cut off from most daily newspapers and from contact with forces that shaped his civilian attitudes. One function of the information and education program will be to maintain this contact. "After all," Richards observed, "most soldiers don't intend to make the Army their career."

Then too, the American army acts on the assumption an informed soldier is a better soldier. "The man who knows what he's fighting for, fights harder," Richards said.

Some progress — In an interview, Richards already reports progress. Both colleges and the Army have settled on a program under which officer candidate students will devote at least one of their eight semesters to military subjects. The military subjects are spread over the four-year course, but they total approximately one semester. Richards reports this is accepted by almost all colleges — the major exception being engineering schools. The engineering institutions contend their undergraduates must have at least eight semesters worth of scientific courses. If the military subjects are going to total one semester, this overloads a student.

While Congress was debating the selective service and universal military training program, many American universities expressed fears of a shutdown for lack of students. Richards says this won't happen, though he does admit fewer students will be enrolled in the future.

He says the Army will do all it can to maintain the civilian attitudes of citizen soldiers.

How it works — Here's an example of how that's being done: Some 4,000 GIs overseas are taking regular college courses in off-duty time. These courses are with two such cheats and liars in the house? As a matter of fact, Jacob was compelled to leave home, so Rebekah, for her sins, lost the companionship of the son she loved.

What was Jesus' attitude on divorce? The Pharisees wanted to know, hoping He would say something by which they could trap Him. Jesus answered that God had made man and woman, and a man should leave his father and mother to take a wife, and then they "shall be one flesh."

"What God hath joined together," Christ said, "let not man put asunder." But He did say that if a wife was unfaithful, the man might divorce her.

The story of Jesus' visit to the home of His friends in Bethany we had last week, so we will not enlarge upon it today. Jesus taught Martha, the careful housewife, that there are things in life more important than to worry about the food and preparation thereof, important as they are. There are women today who put an orderly house ahead of the comfort of their families.

The words of St. Paul in his First Epistle to the Corinthians should be read in its entirety and pondered by all who want their homes to be happy and harmonious—and that means all of us.

"Love suffereth long and is kind; . . . beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things."

Memory Verse—"Love . . . beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things"—I Corinthians 13:7.

pay lip service to the memory of Thomas Jefferson, the tendency of both the Roosevelt and Truman administrations has been to ignore such limitations on the assumption that the necessities of the government are paramount. In the California and Texas cases, the Supreme Court upheld this doctrine without however a very clear definition of the necessities on the government.

Moreover when such phrases are employed as "bare legal title" of "mere property ownership," the peril is far beyond these particular cases.

Our social and economic life is organized around "legal titles." A man has a legal title to his home, his automobile, his furniture, his television set, etc. And that is all that he has. That legal title is his sole right to possess whatever he has.

There are countries where a "legal title" does not exist for the individual but is vested in the government. In such countries, the government can, in pursuit of its so-called necessities, divest the individual of his possessions, because the title to the means of production, distribution and exchange is socially vested in the state. This is Marxian Socialism, now practiced in Soviet Russia and other Communist countries. When, therefore, a Justice of the United States Supreme Court denounces "legal titles" by using such an adjective as "bare" to describe them, he is moving a step toward the concept that a legal title is unimportant per se. Ignoring for the moment all other considerations in these Tideland cases, such a concept as this held by Mr. Justice Douglas must not be permitted to stand:

"Property rights must then be so subordinated to political rights as in substance to coalesce and unite in the national sovereignty . . ."

The American conception of property rights is that they exist by right of law not by the fiat of the administration in power. Were it otherwise, it would be possible for the Republicans, when they achieved power, to deny property rights to Democrats and vice versa. As a matter of fact, that process is actually employed today in countries where nationalization is incomplete, such as China and Czechoslovakia, and it was used by Soviet Russia to deprive landowning farmers, kulaks of their property.

In a word, here we have an issue that transcends oil and goes to the heart of the American philosophy of life.

Broadway and Elsewhere

—By Jack Lait

Washington — The military manpower program forced on Uncle Sam by Communist Imperialism has created a host of nasty problems for American colleges.

It's the new job of Dr. John R. Richards, special assistant to the secretary of the Army, to help university presidents iron out these difficulties. Forty-two-year-old Dr. Richards, a Navy veteran from the last war, is the executive assistant to the president of the Wayne University in Detroit.

As an alert educator, Dr. Richards knows the problem arising from a fundamental conflict of interests between the Army and the colleges. The Army intends to get most of its officers from the ranks of college men. So naturally the Army wants colleges to offer many courses in military subjects. Colleges, on the other hand, don't want to offer any more military courses at a sacrifice of regular curriculum. When an argument like this comes, Dr. Richards steps in.

Some progress — In an interview, Richards already reports progress. Both colleges and the Army have settled on a program under which officer candidate students will devote at least one of their eight semesters to military subjects. The military subjects are spread over the four-year course, but they total approximately one semester. One of the peculiar traits of the human mind is that it is so very much interested in the far-away and so comparatively neglectful of the near-by.

Hundreds of missionaries have been sent into the most remote places of the earth to bring religion to the "heathen." Yet here at home there is still so much religious indifference, intolerance, disunity.

Billions have been spent to feed starving masses in India, in China, in Europe—all over the globe. Yet there is still poverty, want, misery right in the back yards of our own country.

More billions are sent to Europe for economic rehabilitation, yet our own domestic economy needs plenty of rehabilitating.

Now comes the latest excursion into the far-away. Astronomers in the Netherlands have triumphantly announced that they have picked up radio signals from the Milky Way, millions of miles away. This is to be the practical beginning of a new science they call "radio astronomy."

Soon you, too, may be able to get these signals and perhaps whole programs, provided you have a receiver eighty feet in diameter and can tune in on the right wave length, which is supposed to be 21.1 centimeters.

My respects to Professor Jahn A. Oort, of Leyden University, who has made the great new discovery.

But with my respects goes the humble question "So what?"

A Wife Interviews Mr. DiSalle

Q.—Mr. DiSalle, I am an American wife. Can I get time off from the OPS rulings for good behavior?

A.—We are trying to roll back good behavior to June 21st levels. What happens to you depends on what happens to you or vice versa.

Q.—Every day I read of some new decisions by your office. Am I expected to understand them?

A.—Your chances are as good as ours, even better.

Q.—I just read that the price of soda pop is to be allowed to go up. Isn't that the last straw?

A.—That reminds me, we may have to permit an extra charge for straws.

Q.—The OPS announces that clothes prices are to be higher. Is that fair?

A.—Certainly. You wouldn't want to see the clothing people lost their pants, would you?

Q.—What happens to their pants concerns me less than what happens to the customers' pants. Things are so tough my husband is keeping his old pants and only buying a coat and vest. Will that solve his problem?

A.—No. Coats are going up too. Your husband may be smart to buy only a vest.

Q.—I thought you were going to freeze prices?

A.—We were, but it seems easier to freeze consumers.

Q.—Shoes are going up. Why is that?

A.—The cows are holding out on leather, and soles are harder to get since Korea.

Junior Women Set Theme, Date of Fall Fashion Show

Theme, date and place for the annual Fall Fashion show sponsored by the Junior Women's Club have been set by the fashion show committee of which Mrs. Robert Hulbert and Mrs. John Sibley are co-chairmen.

"Cinderella's Shopping Spree" was set as the theme of the show which will be held Wednesday, September 19, in the auditorium at the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, at the planning meeting held Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Robert Hulbert, West Main St., Stroudsburg.

Beneficiary of the show this year will be the Salvation Army, which the club has adopted as their major community project for the year.

Committee chairmen who are already at work on plans for the big show include Mrs. Ward Keiper and Mrs. Warren Mikels, models; Mrs. Jack Pine, program; Mrs. Harry Phillips tickets.

Mrs. Richard Fredenberg, Mrs. Theodore Hoffman, Mrs. Elwood German, and Mrs. Richard McDonough, theme and script; Mrs. Samuel O. Wells, III, publicity; Mrs. Olaf Pedersen, prizes; Mrs. Charles McCarthy, posters; Mrs. James Cummings, stage; Mrs. Stephen Kanyek, music; and Mrs. Willard Kintz, Jr., ushers and attendants.

Grace Lutheran Picnic Held

Despite the last minute change in meeting place for the annual picnic of the Grace Lutheran congregation and church school, there was an excellent attendance at the affair which was held at the East Stroudsburg playground on Thursday night.

There were about 100 there for the supper which was followed by swimming.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

When it's so hot that your lipstick starts melting and your feet sink into the asphalt, then it's really too hot to work, but the work goes on just the same. And today, when it doesn't, what do you bet it rains.

But just when you get to feeling too sorry for yourself, along comes something like the farewell party for Mary Hendricks, and you feel pretty sheepish when all you have to do is find the ambition to and go swimming to get out of all the heat.

You can't do that, even in the fanciest wheelchair with all the gadgets. But you can be bright and cheerful and pleased with everything everybody does for you — that is you can if you're Mary Hendricks.

And you can look forward to the train trip to Warm Springs, and the uphill fight to make that wheelchair unnecessary. And maybe the rest of us could appreciate a little more that even if we stick to the asphalt, our feet can also carry us through the dew-wet grass at dusk; though running up and downstairs on household errands can be wearying, there's also the joy of climbing a summer slope with the smell of fallen apples sweet as wine.

Maybe Mary, whose spirit climbs on its own wings, is happier than we who let the temperature regulate our disposition and the weather determine our mental climate.

Blue Ridge Aux. Plans Series Of Benefits

Saylorsburg — The Ladies Auxiliary of the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co., met Tuesday night at the fire hall, President, Mrs. Grant Knowles was in charge of the business meeting. Members decided to consult the firemen with the proposition to have a fireplace built in the rear of the fire hall, to accommodate outdoor outings during the summer months.

A festival was planned for August 17 in the rear of the Fire Hall, with Mrs. John Gower, Mrs. Oscar Bonser and Mrs. Grant Knowles in charge. Each member is asked to bake a cake for the cake walk.

A penny supper was planned for August 25. It will be a cold supper with Mrs. Oscar Bonser as chairman, and a committee to be announced later on. It was also decided to order 125 Deodorant roses.

Mrs. Willard Shoemaker was selected as chairman of refreshment and games for August meeting. Games were enjoyed at the close of the meeting and refreshments were served by Mrs. Claude Eckle and her committee.

Cherry Lane Lawn Bazaar Successful

Cherry Lane — Beautiful weather set the stage for a successful lawn bazaar held by members of the Cherry Lane Methodist church on Monday night, the 23. Neighborhood men had cut the grass, erected stands and strung lights preparatory to the affair and friends sent many packages for the parcel post sale, a feature of the bazaar.

There was a display of fancy work, ice-cream and candy and cigars were sold over another counter, while ham and hamburger sandwiches were dispensed from another booth, with hot coffee also available for those wishing it. Cakes and buns and homemade candy were sold. There was a fine turnout and not only residents, but also of visitors in the section.

From a social standpoint, it was also enjoyable, as many old acquaintances were renewed and much visiting among friends was done. A very substantial sum was realized for the church treasury.

All Ready For Readers Big Picnic

Readers — The annual picnic sponsored by the Readers Methodist church and Sunday school will be held Saturday, August 4 both afternoon and night.

Committees have been named by the superintendent, Paul Hoffman and have been working hard on various projects.

The Nazareth band has been engaged to furnish the music and there will be refreshments for sale. Every one is invited to come for the day for this reunion of old friends.

Household Hints

Serve a fresh vegetable tray with a tomato juice cocktail for a first course when guests are coming. Thrust slender cucumber sticks, not too long, through carrot rings for a new touch for the vegetable tray.

When you buy a teakettle make sure that the handle is large enough and that you can grasp it easily. The outside surfaces of the teakettle should be smooth and easy to clean, since it is likely to get splattered often as it stands on the range.

A good way to introduce color into a room of monotonous is through bright pillows piled on a divan or window seat.

When you are grilling pieces of beef over the outdoor fireplace try marinating them in French dressing that has had a clove of garlic crushed in it.

Don't leave a burned-out fluorescent light tube around if there are youngsters in your household. The glass shatters easily and cuts may result.

When the children get grass or leaf stains on summer clothing that is washable, use a warm soap solution on the spot and rub between your fingers.

8 et 40 Meeting Held at Home Of Mrs. Ransberger

The local salon of the 8 et 40 held outdoor meeting at the home of Mrs. William Ransberger, of Shawnee, Thursday night with an excellent attendance.

During the business session, an appeal for a sewing machine and crinkled crepe material was read from the Malverne Children's TB hospital. Mrs. Peg LeBar was welcomed as a new member.

The regular August meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Brodsky, 17 North Sixth St., and a special benefit party has been arranged for Tuesday, July 31, at the home of Mrs. James Coleman, 23 Barry St., at 2 p. m.

The newly-elected chapeau of the organization, Christina Haas, and the concierge, Jeanne Gutman, will represent the local salon at the state meeting in Pittsburgh, it was announced.

Mrs. Nettie Phillips, Mrs. Esther Emanuel and Mrs. Bessie Marek were the committee in charge of the July meeting which followed by games, with prizes donated by the members. Many of the husbands were guests at this social time.

Frank Miller Dies At Home In California

Frank Howell Miller, brother of the late Wirt D. Miller, Stroudsburg, and a former merchant here, died July 13 at his home, 188 Parkside Terrace, Auburn, Cal.

Mr. Miller and his brother started a partnership in the grocery business many years ago in the old Hollinshead building, now occupied by Stroudsburg Security Trust Co.

The business flourished under the partnership, but Frank decided he wanted to go west. He and his wife and a young son, Howell moved west and there Mr. Miller engaged in a number of enterprises.

He had been manager of the J. C. Penny Co. store at Auburn when he retired due to ill health. Closely associated with civic and service work, Mr. Miller was secretary of Auburn Chamber of Commerce and Lions club. He was a member of Barger Lodge, F&AM, Stroudsburg and the Knights of Malta.

His wife and son, plus Robert Miller, a nephew in Stroudsburg and present operator of the Miller grocery, are survivors.

The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was organized in 1866 and incorporated in New York State.

Vacationer Succumbs At Bushkill

Vincent Dauwalter, 48, of Richmond Hills, L. I., died unexpectedly at 3 a. m. yesterday at Locust Grove House, Bushkill, where he and his wife had been vacationing. A physician who was called said death was due to a coronary occlusion.

The Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg, took charge of local arrangements and took the body to New York City for services and burial in St. John's cemetery.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

It was obvious from the beginning that we had to have a winner, but it makes the locality feel pretty good anyway to know that the District Eight Little League baseball title is right here in Monroe County, after less than a full season of the official game in this locality. We couldn't miss as East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg met for the district honor, with the latter winning the series in two straight games. Stroudsburg is now scheduled to take on the winner of District Seven honors, either Hazleton National or St. Clair.

Advancing to the first rung of a ladder that might lead to the state tournament at Williamsport naturally causes a little excitement in the area, but it's only fair to the kids to point out that the road ahead is rough and full of obstacles, with teams loaded with Little League veterans waiting to land the coveted title themselves. However, regardless of what happens to the Stroudsburg team during its playoff venture, Little League baseball has certainly made a successful bow in both boroughs this year.

Tatamy has made a habit of causing trouble in the Blue Mountain League this year, despite the fact that the club is currently mired down in sixth place in the standing. Tatamy has taken turns beating Roseto, East Bangor and Pocono A. C., the latter on Thursday night at Gordonville field. The sixth place club also inflicted the initial Blue Mountain League loss of the season on Ray Steele, who has won four in his other words, the Tatamy club in the field of the 1951 flag race isn't over as yet—not by a long shot.

Pocono A. C. was beaten on Thursday, this nobody will ever be able to deny, but it was obvious that a heads-up play at the proper time might have kept the charges of Manager John Schoonover in the pennant fight, by a more certain count, and plays of the proper nature would have kept Steele's slate clear of defeat, although the youngster partially contributed to his own downfall with three wild pitches and a pair of errors in the field.

However, the fly that fell right behind third base in the late innings, while the left side of the Pocono A. C. infield enjoyed the spectacle of a dead game Doug Schoonover racing in from deep left field in a gallant attempt to make the catch, certainly didn't help the cause. Allowing a pop fly to drop on the right side of the infield didn't add to the club's prestige either, but the play wasn't damaging, as the ball rolled foul. Several fumbled throw-ins from the outfield, a wild toss here and there and Tatamy had five runs, three too many for the A. C. forces to successfully handle.

The mental lapses noted on Thursday aren't the sign of a team that has folded physically and mentally, but the various signs did indicate that the club is in a slump, one that had its beginning in the game with East Bangor, but hit the heights against Tatamy. Hard work, a little more hustle and the ironing out of a few flaws here and there and the A. C. contingent will be right in the fight until time runs out and certainly will be one of the major figures in the post-season playoff series.

To a man Pocono A. C. is still certain it has a chance to win the Blue Mountain flag this year, but each in turn realizes that one more slip will be absolutely fatal. This factor alone will make next Wednesday's clash with Roseto, at Giffels field doubly important, as the two arch rivals must win every game during the remainder of the season to bring home the bacon. With Manager John Schoonover listed to do the pitching on Sunday, Steele will undoubtedly come back to do the hurling next Wednesday, against Roseto.

However, losing last Thursday's encounter might not be entirely all bad news, as the fact that Steele can take a licking every bit as well as a victory will stand him in good with the major league scouts who are telling him almost daily, Ray didn't once aim a black look at any of his supporting cast, but instead placed the blame on himself, a pretty fine tribute to the fellows who played behind him and watched the lanky right hander retire 14 batters via the strikeout route. To this writer Steele appeared to be even a better athlete in defeat than victory, a youngster who has learned to accept the breaks of the game early.

Unless I am entirely off base at this time, I believe we will all see a rejuvenated Pocono A. C. diamond aggregation in action starting tomorrow and carrying through next week. Although John Schoonover is one of the easiest going guys this writer has ever known, the husky hurler hates defeat as much as any of us, and I'm positive he'll have his club hitting again on all cylinders, when it swings back into action tomorrow.

East Bangor Scores Verdict Over Johnsonville, 9-0

Winner Gains Half-Game In Standings

East Bangor — Johnsonville dropped its twenty-first game in 22 outings last night and East Bangor picked up a half-game on second place Pocono A. C. with a 9-0 victory here, on the winning club's home field. The victory enabled East Bangor to stretch its lead in the Blue Mountain league standings to three full games.

Mace Barnhardt turned in a brilliant two-hit pitching performance for East Bangor, as he limited the visiting Johnsonville contingent to a pair of harmless singles.

Meanwhile the home team picked up two tallies in the first, three in the second, one in the third, two in the fourth and rounded out the scoring with a singleton in the bottom of the fifth.

Ten Hits

East Bangor accounted for ten hits, including a towering home run by Ralph Fisher. The East Bangor contingent also took advantage of six Johnsonville errors to bring home the bacon.

Barnhardt retired ten batters via the strikeout route, while walking only one. Last night's game was originally listed for Sunday, but was advanced to last night, by mutual agreement of both clubs.

Robertson Gains Medalist Honors

Hershey, Pa. — (AP) — Hershey's Ted Robertson, 21, shot a birdie four on the final hole yesterday to win medalist honors in the 72-hole Pennsylvania Public Links Golf tournament with a 36-hole total of 146.

Robertson, who had five-over-par 76 for the round, needed the chip shot and short putt to stay a stroke ahead of Eli Thomas, of South Park, Pittsburgh, who carded a one-under-par 70 in the second round.

Top Man

The Hershey sharpshooter, who is number one man on the Penn State golf team, was far under his torrid pace of Thursday when he broke par with a 70. His second-round card of 38-38 showed only a birdie two on the 171-yard second before the important final hole.

Robertson will lead a field of 31 qualifiers into today's 36-hole finals. Some 91 other pay-as-you-play golfers from the state's public courses, failed to make the required 155 score cut-off.

Harrison Deadlocks Oliver For Lead In St. Paul Open

St. Paul, Minn. (AP) — A seven-under-par 65, one of two such scores turned in yesterday, boosted the veteran professional golfer, E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, into a tie with Ed Oliver of Wilmington, Del. for the lead in the St. Paul Open's second round.

Harrison scored five birdies on the outgoing nine, and three on the back nine. A topped drive that travelled only 40 yards cost him an extra stroke on the 397-yard second hole, giving him a one-over-par 5.

It cost him sole possession of the lead at the end of 36 holes. He had a 68 in Thursday first round. Oliver continued his sub-par golf yesterday, scoring a 67 to go with his 66 of Thursday.

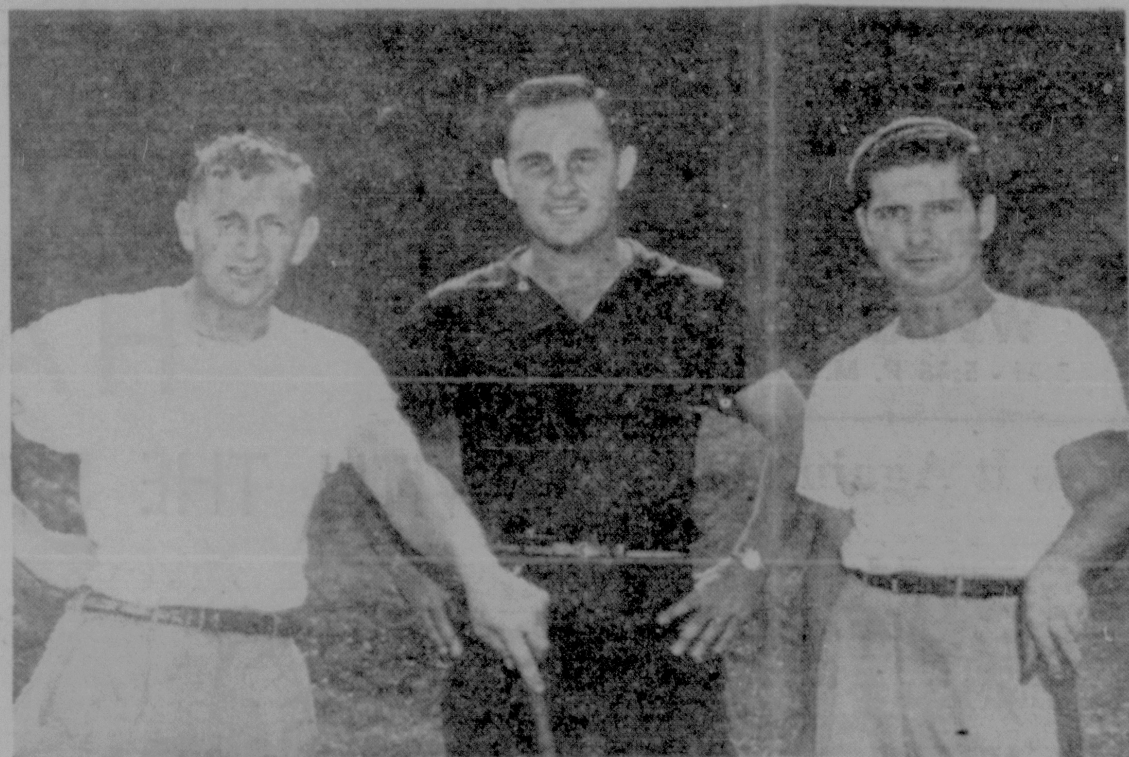

Second Round

The other seven-under-par round was turned in by Jim Deal, former Rice shotput champion who, in his own words, "never has made a nickel out of golf tournaments."

He wound up however, with a 138 total for the 36 holes of play, having a 73 in Thursday first round.

The performances by Harrison and Deal were typical of another day of par-busting golf exhibited by the touring pros. Herman Coe-ho of Honolulu had the best nine-hole score of the tournament, and the best ever turned in for the second nine at Keller when he shot a 29 on the incoming nine. He had five birdies and a three on the par 5, 510-yard twelfth hole.

Trailing Harrison and Oliver by one stroke was Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago and Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif. Both of them shot content 67s yesterday to go with their first-day 67s.

Lockwitch Risks Crown At Glen Brook

August "Auggie" Lockwitch, defending title holder, and Harold Storm, youthful challenger, will fight for the Glen Brook Country club championship in a 36-hole final round match tomorrow, with the first 18-hole tour listed to begin at 9:30 a. m. and the second round at 1:30 p. m.

Lockwitch is the defending champion and is hopeful of bringing home the bacon for the third straight year, while Storm is just as hopeful of capturing the coveted prize for the first time.

Mike Rubish, head pro at the local course, announced last night that the public is invited to view the major match and that a large gallery is expected to follow the match.

First Flight

Joe Wallace and Phil Nixon will tee off at 9:40 a. m. in the first flight, a non-championship contest, while George Savage and Russ Williams tangle in the fourth-flight battle, at 10:10 a. m.

J. B. Miller and Phil Farber are scheduled to clash in the second flight final round, leaving the tee at 9:50 a. m., but some doubt remains concerning the third flight final round.

It will take a pair of semi-final matches today to produce tomorrow's finalists. One of today's semi-final matches will bring together Mike Gujano and Sid Effross, while J. A. Brong and Jules Steinberg clash in the other half of the semi-final round. The final round of this flight will leave the tee at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Vi Shafer and Lorraine Rusk will clash in the championship flight for women sometime next week, while Alice Groner and Orlele Nitrauer cross clubs in the first flight and Ann Swarty and Cynthia Watt meet in the third flight.

A Glen Brook Country club championship banquet will be held at the club on Sunday, August 5, it was announced last night by Rubish. Reservations may be made by calling Rubish, head pro, or Ruth Rin-hart, hostess at the club, at Stroudsburg 9035. The cost is $2.50 per person.

Giants Triumph Over Reds, 5-3

Cincinnati, (AP) — New York ripped apart a three-all deadlock with two runs in the seventh inning last night after two were out to send the Cincinnati Reds plunging to a 5-3 defeat, their sixth straight to the Giants here. Don Mueller powered the New York attack with two triples. Big Ted Kluszewski homered with one on for the Reds. New York ... 002 001 200—5 14 0 Cincinnati ... 001 002 000—3 9 0

Dodgers Trip Cardinals

St. Louis (AP) — Roy Campanella hammered a three-run homer in the ninth inning here at Sports-men's Park last night to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 12-9 verdict over the St. Louis Cardinals, before 28,429 people. The Dodgers trailed by six runs in the fifth inning but came on to win.

A's Win Over Detroit, 10-6

Philadelphia (AP) — Philadelphia ended a seven-game losing streak by outlasting Detroit, 10 to 6, in a wild and woolly battle night. The A's pounded four Tiger hurlers for 15 hits as Gus Zernial and Elmer Vale paced the attack with three blows apiece. Zernial also shared honors with rookie first baseman Lou Limmer in runs batted in as the pair chased home three each. Zernial now has 80 RBIs for the year. Rains Came -- Yankees Leave Field With Nod Over Chisox

New York (AP) — Rain washed out a three-run Chicago rally in the ninth inning last night, and saved a 3-1 victory for the New York Yankees as the score reverted to eight complete innings. Thunder-showers twice interrupted play in the ninth and the game finally was called at 12:32 p. m. (EDT), after a one hour two minute wait because of the unplayable condition of the field.

Rains Came -- Yankees Leave Field With Nod Over Chisox

The Yankees win gave them a one-game margin in the tight American league race with Cleveland and Boston in an exact-second-place tie.

Cleveland Downs Bosox On Home Runs

By Bill King

Boston (AP) — Two home runs by Ray Boone and another by Al Rosen last night enabled the Cleveland Indians to top the Red Sox, 3-2, and pull into a second place tie with the Boston club. Bob Lemon held the Red Sox to five hits, including Charlie Maxwell's pinch-hit two run homer in the seventh inning.

Boone's four-baggers were consecutive affairs, off starter Ray Scarborough and Ellis Kinder in the seventh and ninth frames.

Rosen's fourth bagger, his fifteenth of the season, was blasted in the fifth inning after the Indians had missed scoring opportunities in three previous frames.

Firm Check

Lemon had the Red Sox under a firm check until Clyde "The Clutch" Vollmer stroked his first and only hit while leading off for the Red Sox in the seventh as they trailed, 2-0.

Manager Steve O'Neill, back from his sister's funeral then sent up Maxwell to bat for catcher Al Evans.

Maxwell poled a 400 foot drive into the right field bull pen to deadlock matters. But the cool Lemon bore down hard and retired the next three batters.

In the ninth, after Billy Goodman had drawn Lemon's fifth and last base on balls, the packed 34,298 crowd pleaded with Vollmer to lash another of his game winning blows.

Scarborough was unsteady getting underway and he loaded the bases with one out in the first inning on Bob Avila's lead off single and passes to Boone and Luke Easter.

But Rosen popped weakly to Johnny Pesky in short right field and Sam Chapman went down swinging.

The Indians crowded the bases again with two out in the third but Scarborough pulled out of that hole by making Sam Chapman force Doby, who had been hit by a pitched ball, at third base.

Threat Falls

A single by Bob Kennedy and Scarborough's dropped throw while covering first base on a Lemon grounder was the basis for the Indians' third frustrated threat.

Scarborough uted out by getting out Avila and Boone in comfortable fashion.

Before Rosen lofted into the left field screen, Doby had singled, only to be killed off as Easter grounded into a double play.

Dom DiMaggio connected for a pair of two baggers and his first one was stroked as he led off in the opening frame. He moved to third as Johnny Pesky grounded to Lemon and remained there as Ted Williams was walked for the 97th time this season.

"Junior" Stephens then fled to center, and even with a flying start, DiMaggio was nailed at the plate as catcher Jim Hegan protected his plate in spectacular fashion after taking Doby's perfect throw.

While taking the opener of this three game series, the Indians boosted their season's margin over the Red Sox to ten victories to six. The Lopez forces have won four of their seven Fenway starts to date.

It was Lemon's eleventh win against nine losses and his third in five tries against the Red Sox this season.

As a result Kinder, who has appeared in 35 games was forced to take his second loss against seven victories.

Pocono A. C. At Stockertown In Only Blue Mountain Game

Pocono A. C. three full games off the pennant pace being set by East Bangor, will invade the home domain of Stockertown tomorrow, in the only game on the Blue Mountain League agenda. The contest is scheduled to get underway at 2:30 p. m.

Manager John Schoonover, in an attempt to halt the slide of his club, will take the mound himself against the number seven team in the standings, it was learned last night. Pocono A. C. has dropped its last two outings.

However, the remainder of the lineup will remain intact, with John Drev doing the catching, Danny Epley on first base, Dewey Marting second base; Jim Werkheiser, shortstop and "Lem" Bonser, third base. The outfield will find Doug Schoonover in left field, Alden "Red" Fetherman, center field and Bob Schick will handle the right field chores.

Recent games have found the A. C. contingent slipping from one game behind East Bangor to three long lengths in back of the pace setting aggregation.

Five Contests Listed For Mountain Loop

Members of the Pocono Mountain Baseball League will swing into an important phase of the 1951 pennant race tomorrow, when five games are slated to be played, all getting underway at 2 p. m.

Kunkletown will try to improve its first place standing while playing host to Tannersville, while Ansonia will be at home with George N. Kemp American Legion Post.

Lake Harmony is scheduled to play host to Tobyhanna, while Barrett invades the home domain of Reiders and Saylorburg through its paces against West End A. C. at Gilbert. Saylorburg is currently holding down second place in the standing.

Near Finish

Following tomorrow's activity, the Pocono Mountain League has only four regularly scheduled weekends of activity remaining. However, there are several postponed contests to be played before the current campaign ends.

The games to be made up include Saylorburg at Ansonia, Lake Harmony at Barrett, Tannersville at Reiders and West End A. C. at Tobyhanna, all rained out on June 10.

Tannersville at West End A. C. listed for July 1, still must be played, as is the case with Kemp Post at Reiders, and Reiders and Lake Harmony, originally listed for July 4 and July 15 respectively. The Reiders-Lake Harmony tussle was tied 5-5 when called after ten innings, by the Sunday curfew. The game must now be replayed.

Clemens' Car Runs In Bad Luck

Pittston — Misfortune again overtook the car owned by Bernie Clemens, East Stroudsburg, here at the most recent stock car races held at Bone Stadium. The double hose broke in the feature event with the car in first place, soaking the plugs and forcing driver Bill "Flip" Bennett to finish last, after moving from seventeenth to first place.

Preliminaries

Bennett started ninth in the third qualifying heat and qualified, despite a flat tire. In the semi-final event Bennett started tenth and finished third before 5,500 people.

In addition to Bennett, the pit crew of Jay Welter and Irv Altemus, keep Clemens' car in racing order.

Stock Cars To Race

Gilbert—West End Speedway will hold its regular Sunday card of stock car racing tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., at the newly constructed half-mile dirt oval.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, JULY 28, 1951
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—More care needed in most matters pertaining to money, property, business, employment. However, no worrying. Don't stick tedious tasks, pitch in and show your true feelings.
April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Some precautions required in a m., mostly in confidential affairs, traveling, shipping, money matters. Don't take things in your own hands without knowing the facts. Indulge. Avoid disputes.
May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Balance your day with studies, cooperation, especially in work and at home. Care in promiscuity. Be moderate in handling demands, but do not to principles. Respect others' rights.
June 22 to July 22 (Cancer)—Day offers wide scope for at least some success. The unusual, far-reaching things you've wanted to try are on favored list. Of course, check for soundness, value of subject.
July 23 to August 22 (Leo)—Some new benefits in industrial and mechanical matters, new contracts offered, sound investments. But double check. Romance holds an important spot for someone here.
August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Excellent financial influences for tries with gain of your ability to handle. Can achieve more if you concentrate on essentials first. Direct most energy where it really belongs.
September 23 to October 22 (Libra)—Some sensible aggressive action can put over things which may fail otherwise. You know facts need very little advice, but you must watch trend of your chart, your opportunities.
October 23 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Concentrate sufficiently on personal,

Another Fantastic Fix Story Emerges From Investigation Of Several Toledo Cage Stars

New York (AP)—Another fantastic story of a double cross on a fixed college basketball game came to light yesterday as District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said a fourth Toledo player was involved in the point-rigging of two more games. The games were with Bowling Green and Xavier of Cincinnati last season.

Hogan said he is investigating the case of a fifth Toledo student—freshman player Joseph Massa of Brooklyn—on the basis of information he has received from Asa Knowles, president of Toledo. Hogan said that according to this information Massa knew all about the fixes and may have been a contact man and received money himself.

No End
 Already 31 players from six major college basketball teams have been implicated in a tidal wave of more than 30 "dumped" games. Where it will stop not even Hogan will say. The probe is continuing.

Brought into the picture yesterday by Hogan was Jack "Jumping" Feeman who almost ruined the rigging of the point score in the fixed game with Niagara in Toledo on December 14, 1950. The six-foot, four-inch Akron forward connected for 26 points that night while three of the bribed players, Hogan, said, desperately tried to toss the ball away.

Three minutes before the end of that game, Toledo led Niagara by 17 points. Hogan said William Walker, Robert McDonald and Carlo Muzi, already named by the D.A. as having accepted bribes, managed to lose the ball often enough and Toledo won, 73-70.

Thus the score fell just as Eli Kaye, already charged with bribing several New York players, wanted it and he cashed in.

Phillies Blank Chicago, 2-0

Chicago, (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies bunched three of their five hits off Frank Hiller in one inning for a 2 to 0 victory over the Chicago Cubs yesterday and climbed to within one percentage point of third place in the National League.

Right-hander Emory "Bubba" Church kept five Cub hits—all singles—well scattered to help the champion Phillies to their third successive shutout. It was the Cubs' fourth straight defeat since their return from the road.

Eight Straight
 Church now has defeated the Cubs eight straight times in two seasons.

The only scoring in the game took place in the ninth when the halfted by showers came in the fourth when Bill Nicholson slammed out the first of his two doubles. He scored on Dick Sisler's two-bagger. A single by Granny Hammer and Eddie Pellagrini's bunt brought Sisler home.

The Cubs threatened in the ninth, helped by Hammer's error on "Hank" Sauer's grounder. Sauer reached third on "Smoky" Burgess' single. But Willie Jones speared Randy Jackson's liner and doubled Burgess off first to end the game.

Carnera To Headline Card

Primo Carnera, former heavy-weight boxing champion and now one of the leading lights in wrestling, will headline the mat show to be held at Gordon Griffiths field on Wednesday, August 22, at 8:30 p. m., it was learned last night.

Guarantee
 The Lions club of the Stroudsburg, sponsoring organization, yesterday received a guarantee that Carnera would be available for the first outdoor show of its kind in Monroe county.

Several outstanding women grapplers are also scheduled to be on the grunt-and-groan program.

VFW Donates To Salvation Army Fund

The Veterans of Foreign Wars announced that it has made its annual contribution to the Salvation Army summer camp for children, the donation coming out of receipts from its carnival being held this week at the VFW Memorial Park.

Other contributions from carnival receipts will be made to the VFW National home for widows and orphans of veterans; also to the welfare fund for V. A. hospitals.

Tonight is the last night of the carnival. Many parents have brought their children for rides on the swing, train and ponies.

Club Adopts Courtesy Week

Cresco — Pocono Mountains

Rotary club this week decided to promote a "courtesy week" in Barrett around Memorial day, 1951.

Plans for the event will be developed during the next few months.

Irwin Shinnen presided at the session in Land's restaurant. Lawrence Wile filed a report on the possibilities of starting a Little League baseball operation in the Poconos.

Club program consisted of an historical account of the Pocono Mountains club with remarks by Charter members including Andrew Lewis, Dr. Thomas Larkin, Raymond Michener and Rev. Lewis Walley, one-time pastor of Canadensis Methodist church, who was one of a large number of visitors.

The orchestra has appeared at many leading hotels in New York City and many other cities. They have appeared regularly on television out of New York City and also spot broadcast via WOR, New York, from coast to coast.

Elks, their wives, sweethearts and friends are invited to attend.

Mrs. W. E. Andrews

The potato growers of Polk, Eldred and Penn Forest township, who always hire students to harvest their potato crops, are urged to attend the meeting of the Polk township school board on Friday, August 3, at which time a plan will be adopted. The school may be closed for a week and then no working permits will be issued by the school board.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. David Serfass, a baby boy.

Mrs. Allen Gildner, Floyd Fisher, of Palmerton; Mrs. George Hersh, of Allentown, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Christian, of South Sterling, were callers in the H. A. Shafer family.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Johnson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Meyer, of Palmerton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Berger, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anawalt, of Palmerton.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Strohl called on her sister, Mrs. Stanley Meekes and family, at Gilbert.

Scout Units To Worship At Church

The three scout units sponsored by Grace Evangelical Lutheran church, East Stroudsburg, will worship in a group at the 11 a. m. service Sunday. Approximately 60 scouts including all members of the troop committees and staff will assemble in the sanctuary to attend the worship service and receive their new charters. Rev. W. F. Wunder will preach a sermon on the theme: "Covenants," incorporating in his message the Scout oath and law and the various implications to Christ's teaching and Christian living as is exemplified by His life and illustrated in the Bible. Scouts Morrell Snover, William Strunk, Bennie and Roger Hartmann will serve as ushers. Frank Schaller and King Beers will serve as acolytes.

Carroll All announced last night that Durell T. Mader, tenor, will serve as guest soloist. He will sing "Trust in the Lord" and "Arise, O Lord." Miss Lella Bunnell will preside at the console.

The altar flowers will be placed by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wagner and family. The bulletins will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Anton Vogler in memory of Mrs. Vogler's brother, Ernest Swetlin. The nurse during the service will be in charge of Mrs. Eleanor Randolph and Miss Shirley Schwartz.

When the organ is installed in the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian church in two weeks, it will be the first such organ in this part of Pennsylvania. A special evening service will be announced later for the dedication of the organ to the men and women who served in both World Wars.

The organ committee is made up of Alvin DeWitt, chairman; Arthur Courtright, Mrs. Adelaide Strunk, and Alex Crossan Jr., minister.

Two Guest Speakers At Pinebrook

Tomorrow the speakers at Pinebrook Bible conference will be Dr. George Schmeiser, pastor of Fellowship church in Philadelphia, in the morning service, and Roy Brown, business man, who will speak from charts in the evening.

The service at 2 p. m., the Palmerton brothers and Homer Hammon, formerly associated with Billy Sunday, will be in charge.

The youth on the March vocal quartet will sing. Mrs. Percy Crawford will be at the piano.

Presbyterian Church Buys New Organ

The Middle Smithfield Presbyterian church yesterday announced the purchase of a new organ for its sanctuary. The organ is a new model which was released for the market by the Baldwin company last spring.

This new organ utilizes a principle of tone generation revolutionary to organ construction. It is electrically operated, but has no radio tubes except for amplification. The tone is produced by a beam of light which passes through perforated discs and falls upon a photo-electric cell.

When the organ is installed in the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian church in two weeks, it will be the first such organ in this part of Pennsylvania. A special evening service will be announced later for the dedication of the organ to the men and women who served in both World Wars.

Angele Collins, Karl Brock To Appear In Joint Recital Tuesday Night At Buck Hill

Two talented young artists, Angele Collins and Karl Brock, both with impressive records of achievement behind them, blend a beautiful soprano voice with a rich tenor in a joint recital on Tuesday, July 31, beginning at 8:30 p. m., in the auditorium of the Inn at Buck Hill Falls.

Formerly a student at the Juillard School of Music, where she studied with Francis Rogers, Angele Collins appeared as soloist with the Bach Circle of New York City and on the "At Home With Music" program, starring Sigmund Spaeth.

Outstanding recognition came to Miss Collins in April of 1950, when she won the Walter W. Naumburg Foundation Award, one of the most brilliant prizes that can be bestowed upon a young artist. The award resulted in her being presented in a New York debut recital at Town Hall under the auspices of the Naumburg Foundation.

The young soprano appeared in concert in Oklahoma City and in world-wide broadcast with the Oklahoma City Symphony. Next, she concertized in Baltimore, toured in Virginia and sang the Benjamin Britten "Les Illuminations" with the New York City Ballet Company, besides appearing with many other outstanding orchestras.

Karl Brock, student of Paul Althaus, has filled numerous professional engagements in the fields of opera oratorio, concert, and radio. Soloist with the London Chamber Music Society in Ontario in performances of the Christmas Oratorio, Karl Brock performed Don Ottavio in the Lemonade Opera Company's "Don Giovanni" and did the same role in "Tanglewood" while there on scholarship. Also, he played there in the premier of the opera "Albert Herring".

Mr. Brock understudied the role of Leo in Bizet's "Carmen" on Broadway, and he performed the "Messiah" with the Norfolk Symphony in December, 1950. The Kansas-born tenor appears regularly on radio and television on the Voice of Firestone program.

Milk Producers To Hold Picnic

Dairymen's League Cooperative association members in Monroe county joining members from Lackawanna and Wyoming counties will attend a basket picnic and business meeting at Lake Sheridan at 11 a. m. August 2.

Finding new markets for dairy products and ways of expanding old ones will be among subjects discussed at this meeting. Record milk production last year and currently has made marketing of dairy products increasingly important.

Local members said the dairy farmers are now confronted with the two-fold problem of finding more effective ways to stress the nutritional value of milk and its products, as well as to explain to consumers their mounting difficulties as producers.

Pop Concerts Inaugurated At Skyline

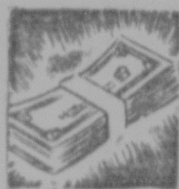

Mt. Pocono — Boston is noted for pop concerts, and if J. Frank Birdall Jr. at the Skyline Inn has his way, the Poconos will be also. Stressing informality and the natural appeal of good music, the pop concerts are fast becoming a permanent part of the Pocono summer scene.

To carry out this plan, Norman and Thorne, distinguished Boston Opera Co. singing stars, present a program of light and semi-classical favorites every Sunday night. Doris Thorne, lyric soprano, sang leading roles with the Boston Opera, and Bruce Norman, tenor, after studying abroad, returned to sing the lead in "The Student Prince" and "The Desert Song". The blending of these cultured voices brings a rich interpretation to operatic aria or popular ballad. Anyone can enjoy the music as these concerts are not limited to guests only.

Letters announcing the concerts were mailed to many Monroe county residents. For their convenience, a list of 110 titles was included featuring songs by Romberg, Kern, Herbert, and others. People are asked to select their favorites and take the list with them to Skyline. The program is composed of those songs most requested by the audience.

Annona, in Roman mythology, was the name given to the personification of the produce of the year.

Congress Votes $50,000 To Son Of Former County Couple

A bill to pay $50,000 to four-year-old James Shellenberger, son of Dr. and Mrs. James Shellenberger, Mishawaka, Ind., former residents of Tannersville, has passed the House in Washington and goes to President Truman.

Young James is a grandson of Rev. J. M. Shellenberger, retired pastor of Tannersville, Swiftwater and Pocono Lake Reformed churches and a nephew of Mrs. Howard Kresge, Stroudsburg, R.D. 3, the former Miss Matilda Shellenberger.

The child's sight was impaired at birth in an Army hospital in Leghorn, Italy, where the father was stationed as an Army Captain.

Impairment of the child's sight resulted from use of a silver nitrate solution in the infant's eyes, which the report said was "improperly prepared."

Dr. Shellenberger is a native of Tannersville and a graduate of Pocono Township high school.

The United States Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., was founded in 1876.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
